LAFCU welcomes David Ostrowski as enterprise project manager

LANSING, Mich. — LAFCU announces the appointment of David Ostrowski to enterprise project manager of the Michigan credit union.

Ostrowski is responsible for overseeing the overall direction, implementation, execution, control and project management of enterprise-wide projects. This includes ensuring consistency with LAFCU's strategic direction, commitments to service, and goals. He takes projects from initial concept through final implementation, defining project scope and charter, and developing detailed breakdowns of deliverables, timelines, schedules, cost estimates, and resource requirements.

“David's expertise lies in service delivery, project management, resource management, and process improvement, all of which have consistently contributed to his success in optimizing organizational performance and client satisfaction throughout his career,” said Ryan Larson, director of professional services at LAFCU. “His wealth of experience and dedication to project management will undoubtedly contribute to LAFCU’s continued success in serving our members and communities.”

Before joining LAFCU, Ostrowski worked for Ceridian HCM Inc., a global human capital management software company, where he advanced three times over a 10-year span—starting as a senior business systems analyst and finishing as the senior delivery manager implementation operations, global consulting practices. Prior to Ceridian, he gained diverse experience across financial analysis and reporting roles, having worked with notable organizations such as Health Plan Services, Inc., Citi Group Inc., Global Strategic Connections LLC, SG Capital Group LLC, and Huntington Management LLC.

A resident of Brighton, Ostrowski earned a bachelor’s degree in political science and government from Michigan State University and a Master of Business Administration with a focus on finance and information systems management from Wayne State University's Mike Ilitch School of Business. He has attained several certifications including Professional of Human Resources certification (PHR), Certified SAFe® 5 Product Owner/Product Manager, ITIL Foundations Certification v4 and Scrum Master certification.

“My focus is on enhancing the way we execute projects at LAFCU to help achieve our strategic objective of providing exceptional value to our LAFCU members and the communities we serve,” said Ostrowski.
